Summary of Experience

Wide experience in working for major international and local contractors for the past twenty two years in the Middle East, in addition to working for construction management firms. Experience also includes strong and diversified engineering background in planning, contract administration, estimation, office work, site work, and project management either through PMP and PMI-SP, or hands-on experience.

Possesses a solid and profound knowledge in the FIDIC 1987 Contracts and the FIDIC 1999 Suite, either through delivering training on similar contracts or hands-on experience. Vast knowledge in FIDIC Contracts attained through practical experience in huge international projects, particularly in the FIDIC 1999 Red Book, Yellow Book, Silver Book, White Book, and the Conditions of Subcontract for Construction.

Vast experience in Alternative Dispute Resolution techniques gained by acting as an arbitrator, adjudicator, expert witness, or advisor in multi-million USD local, regional, and international arbitrations, providing procedural, delay analysis, and contractual consultancies during such proceedings.

Early experience included working with international and local contractors in large-scale construction projects in the Middle East for a period of twelve years; starting as a site engineer all the way through to be a project manager. Afterwards, appointed as Projects Controls Manager, for a period of five years, in a regional construction management company.

Finally, established my own construction management firm that provides the services of construction management, planning and scheduling, claim preparation and management, contract administration, delay analysis, cost control, risk management, and support in Alternative Dispute Resolution techniques.

Experience covers various sectors: power plants, wastewater treatment plants, potable water reservoirs, infrastructure, marine ports, highways, and multi-use buildings including high-rise. Has operated in several countries including Jordan, KSA, UAE, Qatar, Lebanon, Oman, Uganda, Tanzania, Nigeria, Cyprus and Greece.

Husni is an accredited Professional in Scheduling (PMI-SP) and Project Management (PMP) by the Project Management Institute (PMI), in addition to being a FIDIC International Accredited Trainer and a FIDIC Affiliate Member. A speaker at several Arbitration and FIDIC international and local conferences. A regular invited speaker at the FIDIC Users' Conferences in London, Middle East, Africa, and Asia-Pacific.

Husni is currently the Chairman of FIDIC Task Group TG15 and TG15B in charge of drafting The FIDIC Golden Principles for works contracts and consultancy agreements. Additionally, he is a Friendly Reviewer of the FIDIC Red Book, Yellow Book, and Silver Book updates (2nd Editions 2017) in addition to the Tunneling and Underground Works form of Contract (Emerald Book). Further, Husni is the lead translator of the Arabic FIDIC Red Book, Yellow Book, and Silver Book updates (2nd Editions 2017).

Importantly, Husni is a member in the influential FIDIC Contracts Committee, which recommends to the FIDIC board which conditions of contract and related documents should be prepared or updated by the federation.

Vice Chairman of the Project Management Certification Committee of the Civil Engineering Chapter of Jordan Engineers Association (JEA). Member in the Project Management Committee of the Engineering Offices Commission of Jordan Engineers Association (JEA).

Currently serves as an adjudicator on several multi-million USD Dispute Adjudication Boards (DAB). Additionally, Husni presently serves as an arbitrator, expert, or advisor to resolve multi-million USD disputes in several local, regional, and international arbitrations.
