Asia
Pacific

PREFACE

The grouping of the FIDIC Member Associations (MA) in the Asia Pacific Region, as ASPAC, was accomplished at the initiative of five FIDIC MAs of the region, at the FIDIC 1979 Copenhagen Conference. During the FIDIC annual conference held in Singapore in September 2023, it was deemed desirable to attempt putting together a chronicle on the 44 years journey of FIDIC Asia Pacific and transition to its new identity as FIDIC Asia Pacific (FAP). The story of the development of ASPAC and continuing with its new identity of FIDIC Asia Pacific makes an interesting read for the veteran members as well as for the new entrants to FIDIC from the Asia Pacific Region.

While searching for the appropriate chronicler for its history, the ASPAC committee readily thought of requesting Yoshi Yamashita San, who has been a contributor and a witness to the growth and development of ASPAC over the years. He graciously accepted to take up this onerous task and has come out with this interesting historical diary of the entire journey.

What we present here is largely compiled by him, supported by the photographs from the archives maintained meticulously by the Association of Japanese Consulting Engineers (AJCE) and the Engineering and Consulting Firms Association Japan (ECFAJ) - FIDIC MA representing Japan since consolidation with the AJCE in 2016. It is our sincere hope that the readers will find this historical document informative as also enjoyable.

HAPPY READING!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I am indeed delighted to forward ASPAC Story, presenting the historical narration of development and growth of ASPAC since its inception a little over 40 years ago.

Consistent support and noteworthy contributions by the Member Associations of the region, through their professional members has been the driving force behind bringing up ASPAC to the present high level. ASPAC is now a vibrant regional body of FIDIC, renamed as FIDIC Asia Pacific. It is organising a number of events and programmes, actively involving the member countries, creating an intimate relationship of understanding and cooperation among the regional Member Associations.

The idea of publishing this ASPAC Story was mooted by Mr. Amitabha Ghoshal, Chairman of Editorial Board of ASPAC. Mr Yoshi Yamashita, Member, Editorial Board compiled the historical data and Ms. Dilini Gamage, Chairperson of Future Leader Group created this beautiful design and production. My special thanks to all of them.

Wish you all happy reading!

INTRODUCTION

Yoshi Yamashita

Senior Adviser

*Engineering and Consulting
Firms Association, Japan
(ECFAJ)*

Because of my long involvement with FIDIC and ASPAC, and to thank for their kind support for raising my capacity as a competent international consulting engineer, I felt obliged to accept the request for writing ASPAC History. Fortunately, the Association of Japanese Consulting Engineers (AJCE), consolidated with the Engineering and Consulting Firms Association, Japan (ECFAJ) in 2016, keeps considerable amount of data on ASPAC activities in its archive.

Though it is not possible to report all the past ASPAC activities in detail, however, brief summary of its major activities such as the agenda and minutes of ASPAC meetings, name of participants, and theme of ASPAC conferences may help readers to grasp a trend of ASPAC activities in chronological order. I do hope that the summary of ASPAC activities will be shared and carried over by FIDIC Asia and Pacific members hereafter, young professionals in particular.

ABOUT ASPAC

FIDIC Asia Pacific is a regional group comprising 22 national member associations aimed at coordinating FIDIC activities in the Asia-Pacific region. Its objectives encompass representing the consulting engineering industry, fostering regional cooperation, aiding member associations in capacity-building for private consulting services, and ensuring access to work opportunities in their respective countries. The group also focuses on promoting technology transfer and capacity-building, organizing training programs, and advocating for the formation of local consulting engineering associations.

Additionally, FIDIC Asia Pacific strives to elevate the status of national associations and uphold high professional practice and ethics standards. The group aims to voice common opinions to relevant bodies and facilitate good relations between member associations, clients, and the public. Furthermore, FIDIC Asia Pacific seeks to establish and maintain cooperation with similar associations and professional bodies.

VISION

Achieving Excellence in Consulting
Engineering Across the Asia-Pacific Region

MISSION

We, FIDIC Asia Pacific is dedicated to uniting the Member Associations of the region for advancement of the Consulting Engineering industry. We strive to foster regional cooperation, enhance professional standards, and facilitate access to opportunities for our members. Through advocacy, training, and technology transfer, we aim to promote sustainable growth and uphold ethical practices.

Our mission is to strengthen the status of national associations, cultivate meaningful relationships with stakeholders, and collaborate with similar professional bodies, ultimately infusing excellence in consulting Engineering throughout the Asia-Pacific region.

ESTABLISHMENT OF ASPAC

ASPAC was established at the FIDIC Conference in Copenhagen, 9th June 1979. Five MAs from Asia and Pacific participated in its founding: Australia, Singapore, New Zealand, Japan, and Hong Kong. Dr. Peter Miller (Australia) was appointed as the first ASPAC chairman.

Thanks to the effort of FIDIC president at the time, Mr. H.C.Frijink (Finland), an informal regional group of FIDIC Member associations in the Far East and the Pacific was established. The group took the name ASPAC. Non-FIDIC associations were invited to take part in ASPAC Meetings. One particular objective of the group was to help engineers in non-FIDIC countries in the region to form new associations, or to strengthen existing associations.

ASPAC MEETINGS | ECM | GAM

Since its establishment, ASPAC meetings were held twice a year from 1979 to 1987, once a year from 1988 to 2000 in Asian countries.

In Sept 2000, ASPAC Meeting was held during FIDIC Hawaii Conference. It was a milestone in the history of ASPAC as the Operational Rules of ASPAC was approved after which ASPAC GAM became the decision-making platform. Election of ECMs formally started in this conference.

From Sept 2000 to Sept 2018, ASPAC GAMs were held during the FIDIC conference.

At the ASPAC GAM, Dubai, Sept 2015, it was decided that ASPAC conference will be held in Asia and Pacific countries when FIDIC conference is held in non-ASPAC region.

Since ASPAC GAM, Sept 2021, name of ASPAC and Executive Committee has changed to FIDIC Asia and Pacific (FAP) and Board to comply with the revision of Statute and By-laws of FIDIC.

MAJOR ISSUES RAISED IN ASPAC ACTIVITIES

In Oct. 1999 at Kuala Lumpur, ASPAC and Technical Consultancy Development Program in Asia and Pacific (TCDPAP)* started collaboration to promote CE industry in Asia and Pacific region. TCDPAP was established and financed by the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP) in 1990s after which it was supported by Consultancy Development Center (India).

ASPAC participated in TCDPAP conference since Oct. 1999 whose main activity was to hold annual conference in TCDPAP member countries. ASPAC supported the activities of TCDPAP, however, collaboration between both parties came to a natural end after March 2014, ASPAC/TCDPAP conference in Bali.

* Objectives of TCDPAP

To promote better utilization of local consultants in national and regional projects in the ESCAP region through establishing, developing and continuously updating an information system and programmes; and disseminating such information to end-users in a timely and orderly manner, and to develop, introduce and popularize schemes to enhance local consultancy capabilities through policy measures, institutional arrangements and training programmes in the approaches and methodology of providing consultancy services.

CHAIRMEN OF ASPAC

From 1970s to 1990s, a term of ASPAC chair was not fixed. At the ASPAC GAM in Sept 2000, it was limited to 3 years in accordance with newly established ASPAC Operational Rules.

FAP MEETING IN SINGAPORE

A meeting of the Members of FIDIC ASPAC (FAP) was held on the sidelines of FIDIC Annual Conference In Singapore on the 12th of September. The meeting was well attended with about 30 participants. Everyone was happy to welcome representative from Myanmar, first time in any FIDIC meeting. The main purpose of the meeting was to review the happenings of FAP and to provide a platform for the organizers to brief all members on the arrangements that were in the process of holding the FAP annual event in Bangkok in November 2023. The meeting was initiated by the President of FAP by welcoming all FAP members who were attending the Congress and also who had joined by invitation.

President gave a review of the recent happenings in FAP that included inter-MA communications; the important issues affecting the operations of the FAP like the absence of a permanent secretariat and office; and the continued publication of the Newsletter on a regular basis. President requested the Chairman of the Editorial Board to make a presentation on the publication of the Newsletter, which he did by mentioning how the Newsletter has been gaining in strength and its popularity over the last fifteen months of publication. He thanked the members of the Editorial Board for their positive support and requested the MAs who had not yet joined as regular contributors to come forward by nominating a coordinator. He further explained how a vibrant Newsletter can improve the coordination between all the members of ASPAC and give them the benefit of participation in events held by other MAs without physical presence. The MA representatives responded by promising close cooperation. Hard copy of the ASPAC newsletter was released by the Chairman .

President of ASPAC released updated copy of FAP directory of its members. President then invited the team from Bangkok to brief the members on the Annual Congress to be held after a gap of four years, after the grand 2019 meet held in New Delhi in the month of July.

The organizing team from Bangkok made a very informative and attractive audio-visual presentation, with the details of the technical interactions planned, as well as the opportunity for the delegates to get together over technical and social events being planned at attractive venues. The arrangements for the persons accompanying the delegates were also conveyed. The very cost-effective arrangements planned were emphasized to the attendees and they responded by having interesting interactions on the details.

The discussions then were held on the future plans for strengthening the FAP and for making it an effective platform for cooperation among the consultants operating in the Asia Pacific region who share identical challenges. The full body of the meeting welcomed the plan for publication of the History of ASPAC as a separate publication and requested that the same be made available ahead of the Bangkok event. The efforts made by Yoshi San in chronicling the long history of ASPAC were appreciated by the entire gathering.
