FIDIC 99 EDITIONS – ESSENTIALS FOR WORKING IN INTERNATIONAL PROJECTS

General

FIDIC has always exercised its mandate in the production of various documents, contract forms, guides and manuals to assist Consulting Engineers, Employers, Contractors and other factors all over the world to perform and deliver services to their clients.

These publications have facilitated the business practice of Consulting Engineers to establish standards or norms which are used by an increasingly large number of Consulting Engineers and their clients.

FIDIC 1999 Conditions of Contract are used all over the world. These conditions of Contract are used in Central and Eastern Europe, where countries in the cohesion process to the EU are using FIDIC 99 conditions of Contract, in Africa, and Asia where Multi-Lateral Development Banks, including World Bank, Islamic Bank of Development, Asian Development Bank have adopted FIDIC 1999 Edition the New Red Book with modifications.

In the present context of the highly competitive field, knowing the Contracts and the rights and obligations of the Parties will avoid future problems. Some of the documents are very specific, while others are more of a guideline. Almost inevitably, all of the FIDIC products have had the benefit of a large number of members contributing to the total effort in developing such Contracts by FIDIC.

The scope of the training is to explain and illustrates how to use de FIDIC 99 Conditions of Contract. The Course path through practical issues on the FIDIC 1999 Conditions of Contract including the New Red Book, Yellow Book, Silver Book and Pink Book.

During the course the participants will have the opportunity to open discussions in order to clarify some of the practical issues.
